Chairman's Message

By Bob Grauer

February is typically a slow month for NCRS. This month was no different. Weather was terrible. Even the cars and coffee folks cancelled some events. Looking forward to Tucson and spring, aren't you?

We are preparing for our March Regional in Tucson and NCC April Chapter Judging event in Los Gatos. Those plans are well in hand. So, I strongly encourage our NCC membership to move quickly and register. In April, we have cars and need judges. Los Gatos is an awesome town, close to Silicon Valley (San Jose). All of our Silicon Valley events over the years have been top notch!

NCRS is working closely with the National Corvette Museum to identify interesting and unusual/rare examples for a one-year presentation in celebration of Corvette's 70th Anniversary. Past National President Vito Cimilluca (Region 3 Director) is back and is now coordinating that selection process with museum staff. This project is in great hands with Vito. The registration submission forms are now available on the NCRS National website. Mike Ingham, our Region 9 Director and NCRS National VP can answer your inquiries. There must be some great Vette's from the western US that could be displayed for all to enjoy.

The new-look Restorer Magazine is a big hit! Watching the Zoom National Board meeting, the accolades for Vinnie's team were truly earned! Congratulations Vinnie and team! They clearly put a ton of work into the magazine, and it shows!

Looks like NCRS President Mark Tully and his board have everything under control after the unexpected changes this past January! Best wishes to Mark and board from NCC!

There appears to be some conversation regarding Concours Judging data. Who is participating? Members only? Attracting any new members? Those members that have had their cars judged for Concours or have some informational data to share, are welcome to do so. I'd like to hear your comments so that I can be more engaged in this aspect of our hobby.

We are considering a fall meet in Sonora, CA (East of Modesto in the beautiful Yosemite foothills). Putting together hotel and road tours as this prints! Keep in mind for September 22-23 dates.

Hope to see everyone soon!

Respectfully submitted,
Sandy Houck, NCC Secretary

Food For Thought

By Sharyl Ingham

Thank you, Region IX members, for your response to our plea for donations for the Tucson Regional. As previously mentioned, the planning and execution for this regional has all happened within 5 months without any major sponsors. I think of this as the Region IX family coming and working together for the cause supporting our members however and wherever we can.

Speaking of family, do you northern California residents remember what the weather was like on Sunday, February 26th? Does 100% rain with gusty winds not to mention the cold temperature ring a bell?

Our grandson, who attends San Diego State, was playing a Lacrosse game in San Rafael at noon. Fortunately for us they changed the game time to 11:30, not that there was any let up in the storm. In any case Mike and I with all our rain gear went to watch the game along with other faithful family members supporting their sons or grandsons. By the end of the game many of us, the spectators, were as drenched and looked like the team members in their uniforms. But my point is this is what family does, support each other.

Sometimes I have to laugh at myself, and this is a good example of one of those duh moments. I can't tell you how many times I have washed a load of clothes without checking my pockets only to find bits of Kleenex throughout the load when it is finished. See, aren't you smiling to yourself reading this? Now, what might you do to make you laugh at yourself? Nobody is perfect...

March 1st is the First Day of Women's History Month. This is a month-long celebration of women's contributions to history, culture, and society. Spring forward because it is back to Daylight Savings time so set your clocks ahead on March 12th. March 14th is PI Day, not the kind you eat. Wear green on March 17th, St. Patrick's Day; Spring, March 20th; and National Puppy Day, March 23rd. Hey, Ron and Beth Bartow have a new puppy!

Stay well and have a safe month.

Count your age by friends, not years, count your life by smiles, not tears.

By Sharyl Ingham

Please join me in extending birthday and anniversary wishes to the following members that are celebrating this month, starting with Steve Giovannini, March 1st; Jerry Fuccillo, March 12th, Roger Hodel. March 15th; Mary Hodel, March 16th; Mike McGue, March 19th; Carlanne Cheney, March 23rd; Linda Kennard, March 24th; Michael Dreeling, Roxanne Hooper and Sophia Tidwell sharing March 28th, mine, March 30th; and Cindi Grauer and Mason McNay sharing birthdays as well as Mason and Amber's anniversary, March 31st.

Installation of T-3 Headlights in a C2 Corvette

By Tony Stein, NCRS No. 4600

This article demonstrates the installation process of T-3 headlights in a C2 Corvette. I documented this process while restoring my 1965 convertible. I hope that others may find this article helpful.

I began with the installed buckets in my project. The one in the photo below is the passenger-side headlight bucket.

My headlight bucket has the original attachment points, bolts, and springs. From past experience, I've found that it is best just to reuse your original attachment parts. In an earlier restoration, I tried to remove some of the attachment screws, but they easily twisted off while trying to remove them. Unless these parts are broken and need replacing, I would recommend that you just keep and use your originals.

The first part of the process is the installation of the headlight extension wires. They connect to the engine wiring harness. Notice that the headlight extension wire assembly comes in two parts: the wires themselves and the plastic socket that aids in attaching the headlight wiring extension to the engine wiring harness.

Note the three lead wires and plastic plug-in holder:

Simply feed the three wires through the hole in the outboard side of the headlight bucket and pull through. Once the three leads are through, install the three separate wires into the plastic plug. The harness vendor provides written instructions where the three wires plug into the plastic plug. Once the three leads are attached to the plastic plug, it will be ready to plug into the main engine wiring harness. That will be addressed at the end of this article.

The headlight wiring extension is now ready for installation of the T-3 headlights. Notice that there are two separate plugs on the extension wire. The one on the left accepts a 3-prong headlight, and the one on the right accepts a 2-prong headlight. The sequence on these plugs is opposite on the driver's side. Remember, the low beams are always outboard and the high beams are always inboard.

Low-beam headlight connector.

High-beam headlight connector.

Low-beam headlight.

High-beam headlight.

The headlights are installed in place with a galvanized cup and stainless-steel ring. Each headlight has its own separate cup and ring. They are shown below:

Notice with the cup on the left, there are two open slots shown at the 12:00 o'clock and 3:00 o'clock positions. Those open slots fit into a slot just below the Phillips screw heads on the headlight bucket. Feed the wire plug through the opening in the metal cup, as shown in the photographs below:

At this point, plug the headlight into the plug-in. Now you are ready to install the stainless-steel ring which does two things. First, the stainless-steel ring firmly attaches the headlight to the headlight cup. Second, the ring sets the headlight into the proper position for the later headlight bezel installation.

The stainless-steel ring has three attachment points. The first two are holes in the extensions shown in the following photo. The holes in the ring at the 12:00 o'clock position and 3:00 o'clock position correspond to the holes in the cup. Place the bulb in the cup with the T-3 emblem in proper alignment. Then place the ring over the bulb and screw in the machine screws that attach the ring to the cup at the 12:00 o'clock and 3:00 o'clock positions. The third attachment point is a bit trickier. The stainless-steel ring has an open slot at the 8:00 o'clock position. The spring end attached to the headlight bucket must be pulled and stretched so that it attaches into that slot. See below:

Once the spring end is placed through the stainless-steel ring, your headlight is now in place.

Repeat the same process for the high-beam headlight. Once both are installed as shown, this is how your headlight assembly should appear:

The next step is the installation of the headlight bezel. The bezel is painted body color and should not have a highly polished appearance since it was not polished at the factory after paint. To install the bezel, place the bezel in place. There is an opening on each side of the bezel to screw in a silver, flat headed machine screw. Underneath the bezel, two black phosphat machine screws are inserted in the two holes below. Once all four screws are in place, you've completed the installation of your headlight assemblies.

The final step to complete this project is to attach the black plastic end of the headlight wire extension into the main engine harness. This will be done in the grille area on each side. It is a tight fit, so it may take a little "pursuading" to get the three-prong plastic plug into place. Once that is done, the job is complete.

I hope this helps others tackle this job. It took me about 2 hours to complete.

By the way, do you know what T-3 stands for? It stands for a headlight that was designed to cast light 3 degrees down and 3 degrees to the right to avoid light shining directly into the eyes of an oncoming car.
