Chairman's Message

By Bob Grauer

Sonora CA Fall Judging Meet on Friday September 22nd and Saturday the 23rd at the Heritage Inn. Mark your calendars please. Registrations are active in the Driveline and online. We will need cars to judge and look forward to another fine event! The location is beautiful Yosemite country! Mike is planning a great judging event and Jeff and Wayne are planning a judging school.

Last published information is that 2024 C8 production has been delayed a bit (A week on C-8's, no word on an E-Ray delay.). Dealers cannot process orders for the E-Ray until August 17th. If you cannot wait to see one "in the CBP - (composite body panel)", I'll bet that the Rolex Monterey Motorsports Reunion (a.k.a Monterey Car Week) (a.k.a Monterey Historics for the old timers) is the best place to be for the celebration of Corvette's 70th anniversary August 16th through 19th. Link: <https://www.co.monterey.ca.us/government/government-links/weathertech-raceway/upcoming-events/monterey-reunion>

Jeff Blakeslee has offered to present a tech session on gasoline / fuel products on Saturday August 12th at 10:00AM. It will be held at Nutshell 753 Montague Ave in San Leandro. Doughnuts and coffee. See you all there!

Napa Cars and Coffee - Add to your list. Sandy reports that it is held every month on the second Sunday, 8:00 to 10:00, at 865 Factory Stores Drive, Napa. It gets a nice variety of cars, including some Corvettes. Get coffee and tasty cookies at Brewed.

GM changed their "anti-flipping policy" a bit. Now if a customer flips his Z06 and E-Ray within six months of ownership, Chevrolet will void parts of the warranty on both models. And Chevy took away the rewards program incentive benefitting buyers not to flip cars. I guess they felt that voiding the warranty was punishment enough. I wonder – Rather than punishing their customers, how exactly is GM punishing their own dealers who are still gouging buyers with obscene mark-ups? Does not seem fair.

Winery Road Tour on September 9th is being planned by Sandy. Dates will be confirmed in time for the August 8th NCC Zoom (I hope).

NCC Meeting Minutes July 11, 2023

Chairman Bob Grauer welcomed 20 members to the July meeting at 7:00 pm via Zoom. He asked us to introduce ourselves, stating where we live and the years of our Corvettes.

Bob reviewed scheduled event dates for 2024 and discussed possible dates in late February and early March for our Spring Meet, hopefully in Los Gatos.

Secretary Report: Sandy Houck

No June minutes due to Sandy's absence. Reportedly they had great food, discussed cars, and collected goods for the food drive.

Membership: Sharyl Ingham
We continue to have 117 members.

Treasurer's Report: Chris Moore
Chris was absent. Bob reported that we are earning interest on CDs.

NCRS Region IX Director and Vice-President: Mike Ingham
Mike held a bi-monthly Zoom meeting with Chapter chairs in Region IX. They discussed concerns about inflation affecting NCRS event prices include meals and venues. NCRS does not provide guidance to Chapters on pricing.

Chapter Top-Flight Award (CTFA): Jeff Blakeslee
Jeff was absent, but Bob said we have satisfied some of the required items.

NCC Fall Meet, Sonora, September 22-23: Jerry Fuccillo
Jerry reviewed costs and reported that the hotel will provide security. Rooms are available so now it is the time to sign up and make your hotel reservation. See the form in the Vettecetera, but register online please. Since the C6 Judging Manual is now published, Marci Albers may bring her Ron Fellows C6.

Convention in French Lick:

Sharyl said 86 cars are registered for judging. Reportedly French Lick hotels are booked up.

Technical Discussion Board: Gary Beaupre and Rick Gower

No report. Rick was absent and Gary just got back from France (his delayed post-retirement trip).

Old Business:

Previously Bob considered having an NCC display at Good Guys in Alameda. To get further ideas, he will attend and display his personal Ford this year.

Ideas for Road Tours were discussed. These include a trip to Pope Valley Winery, a drive to or from Sonora, and driving Highways 49 and 88.

Bob continues to collect Cars N Coffee times and locations. Email your local event info to him.

Adjournment:

The meeting adjourned at 8:00 pm. The next meeting will be Tuesday, August 8th. Plan on attending the next in-person meeting on Wednesday, November 15th in Oakland.

Respectfully submitted,
Sandy Houck, NCC Secretary

Road Tour Radio Communications

By Mason McNay

In getting ready for the NCRS Road Tour, and previously being generally disappointed with the handheld FRS/GMRS radios that I have, I decided to see what I could find out about the current status of the FRS/GMRS world. I was surprised to find that the new side-by-side popularity, in my experience primarily illegally using ham radio frequencies, drove changes to the FRS/GMRS regulations. There are two main differences between FRS and GMRS: the first is that while FRS and GMRS use the same frequencies, GMRS requires a ZA radio operators license costing $35 for 10 years. The second is that GMRS allows higher power (wattage) transmit frequencies. While anyone without a ZA radio license can purchase a GMRS radio, technically you need the license to operate it at the higher wattages (most handhelds are between 0.5 and 2 Watts of power and do not require the license).

The legal broadcast limits for channels 1-7 are 2 Watts for FRS and 5 Watts for GMRS. Channels 8-14 are restricted to handheld radios only and limited to 0.5 Watts. Channels 15-22 are limited to 2 Watts for FRS and a whopping 50 Watts for GMRS. CB radios were limited to 4 Watts.

So, what is the big deal about wattage? It is relevant to how far one can transmit, but it has no real bearing on what one can receive. If you have a handheld transmitting at 0.5 Watts and a mounted radio transmitting at 50 Watts, the 50-Watt signal can be received at a distance roughly 100 times further than the 0.5 Watt. It doesn't matter if the receiving radio is a unlicensed 0.5 Watt FRS handheld or a 50 watt GMRS mounted radio.

In my research I discovered that Midland makes what they call "MicroMobile small form factor radios", some with a 15 Watt transmit level, and some with a 40 Watt transmit level. There is a model in each range where all the controls are on the handheld microphone, allowing the base to be mounted out of sight.

I bought the Midland MXT275 15-Watt radio with microphone controls from Amazon for $165 and made an acrylic cradle for it to sit on the barrier behind the seat backs (see picture).

I was excited to use it on my next outing, we had our drivers meeting and they chose channel 12. As I returned to my car and went to tune my radio to channel 12, it went from channel 7 to channel 15, skipping channel 12 and the others.

My takeaway is that, while still untested and without proper antenna placement, the broadcast distance should be greatly increased. The higher quality speaker sounds far better, at least on the weather band channels. If one chooses to get the license, it's a government agency and the clicks are not intuitive, it took me 30 minutes. Another takeaway is that people, including me, pick their channels based on vanity value things, like 4-27 or 12, because it sounds good instead of picking the channel with best range.

I think if at least the lead and follow cars had higher wattage mounted radios, especially if the group chooses the higher wattage channels of 15-22, Road Tour communications would be improved. If the group is going to use channels 8-14, the most limited broadcast wattage, you will still need a handheld.
